OFFICIAL PUBLISHERS FOR

Supporting the ITS industry for 29 years

As cities around the world continue to grow, their booming populations demand intelligent transport solutions – for both people and freight. The problems which urban mobility creates – such as congestion, pollution and road safety – are ever-present. But the amount of funding available to many transportation departments is diminishing. By helping make better use of existing infrastructure, intelligent transport systems are able to address many of these problems. For many cash-strapped authorities, ITS is the only realistic option on the table. However, the technology is changing rapidly – both in terms of hardware (expected to detect a growing number of parameters) and of software (making sense of the growing mountains of data most authorities hold). The rise of artificial intelligence adds further opportunities – and complications.

ITS International helps key staff in the world's transportation authorities keep up to date with all of the latest developments. Case studies highlight how innovative DoTs and other bodies use technology to overcome problems that echo those encountered by our global readership. The experienced editorial team scours the world's transport systems to bring readers the information they need to take the best informed decisions for solving problems within their own jurisdictions.

Established in 1995, ITS International is published six times a year and is available in Global and North America editions while its www.itsinternational.com website is updated every working day.

Adam has edited publications and websites across a range of industries. He began work as a business journalist in 1994 for Reed Business Publishing's Motor Transport magazine and has since written news, features and interviews in sectors including pharmaceuticals, public relations, transport, health, public affairs and the circular economy.

Adam is a regular member of the Daily News editorial team which reports from key industry events around the world.

*New for 2024

ITS International is offering IN-FOCUS features in each of the 6-issues in 2024. These are comprehensive evaluations of specific technologies and will include the following multi-channel content:

- Published editorial feature with high quality images in both the print and digital magazine formats. The articles will also be hosted on www.itsinternational.com and included as part of our ITS eNewsletters.
- Video response from an industry specialist, with questions relating to the subject matter. The video will appear in the main feature in a talking head box with a QR code that leads directly to the video. These videos will also appear on our website, eNewsletters, YouTube and social media channels.
- Videos of customer testimonials can also be included, subject to availability.
- New products will be highlighted in both formats of the publication and all of our digital platforms

These exclusive packages are strictly limited, so please contact our sales team to check availability.

Global circulation 22,934

At a time when marketing budgets are severely stretched, it is critical to gain the best return on your investments and guarantee the best value and coverage for your company in 2024. ITS International is officially the largest circulating, most requested and best read magazine in the industry and is your ideal first choice.

Advertisers in ITS International have the flexibility to select one of two circulation options: The Global offering, or a North America demographic.

North America circulation 11,396

The North America demographic is provided to enable companies that are only active within North America to advertise within ITS International without needing to invest in copies that would be of no direct benefit.

As part of ITS International's working relationship with ITS America & IBTTA, the magazine uniquely receives both associations membership databases annually for circulation management purposes. This ensures the cream of the North American located transportation community receives personalised copies of ITS International. These are the very people who buy, recommend and specify products and services, so advertising in ITS International puts your company directly in front of them.
